independence, creativity, and invention. They can also work in educational, missionary, and social organisations, free-time activities organised by the state, public service, churches, and NGOs requiring the Master degree, e.g. missionary church posting, mission abroad, Christian kids' clubs, youth work, daily senior centres, Roma mission, ecumenical activity, Christian publishing houses and biblical societies, Christian diaconical and charity institutions, Evangelism centres, Christian radio and TV broadcasting, media activity, chaplain activity in prisons, hospitals, police, and army.

Learning objectives and outcomes

Learning outcomes are specified in detail in the Learning outcomes document attached to the application.

Master degree study: Evangelical Theology and Mission

The graduate develops knowledge in the following areas:

- the basics of theology as a scholarly field focused primarily on the Evangelical tradition
- the development of theological thinking in the broader context of Christian orthodoxy
- forms and methods of pastoral intervention and correction
- career planning and competences
- the legislation and strategic church management documents
- the contexts in which church and parachurch institutions are working

The graduate develops practical capabilities and skills:

- using appropriate diagnostic tools in pastoral care and catechesis
- managing specialised activities and projects
- planning and implementation of pastoral and organisational activity and the related processes
- organising, preparation, and implementation of activities and events on the church, parachurch, and public levels
- supports spiritual development on the individual and community levels
- efficiently mediates specialised literature in church and parachurch contexts, is competent to participate in expert discussion and popularise research results.

The graduate develops additional knowledge, capabilities/skills, attitudes:

- critical and creative thinking, problem-solving
- mature moral and ethical attitudes necessary for the profession
- foreign language skills
- digital skills and media literacy
- team work and good organisational skills.

The detailed structure of learning outcomes (knowledge, skills, capabilities, attitudes) can be found in the Structure of the study programme and Learning outcomes attached.

The institution indicates the professions for which the graduate is prepared at the time of completion and the potential of the study programme from the point of view of graduate's employability.

The graduates can work in the following areas:

- Church: deacon, chaplain, assistant priest, catechist, parish priest, spiritual administrator, parish administrator, consenior, senior, clerical member of the church management, the highest representative of the church and religious society in the Slovak Republic, church organisation manager expert in the area of church-state relationships, expert in religious studies, leading representative of an association, manager of a non-profit organisation

Preacher under a registered evangelical church, spiritual administrator of a church congregation, manager of a facility operated by the church, teacher in all kinds of church education, religious education teacher at primary school.

- Mission:

A missionary of the existing church communities, worker in domestic and international missionary organisations, translator-interpreter-linguist

- Other areas:

social facility worker, charity institution worker, prison/military/hospital chaplain, drug centre officer.

The study programme prepares theology students in accordance with the beliefs of the evangelical churches (i.e. part of the state-registered churches) for practice in evangelical churches and related institutions. This study programme is very specific and unique in the SR.

Since the Czech Republic lacks a study programme focused on Evangelical Theology, this study programme attracts students from the Czech Republic as well.

The higher education delivered under this programme promotes prosocial activities in local church communities and reduces the risk of religious radicalisation in a pluralistic society.

Relevant external stakeholders who have provided the statement or a favourable opinion on the compliance of the acquired qualification with the sector-specific requirements for the profession

Name of the organisation	Seat of the organisation
Baptist Union in the SR	Súľovská 2, Bratislava
Slovakia United Methodist Church	Panenská 10, Bratislava

3. Employability

Assessment of the employability of the study programme's graduates

The occupations indicated above are continually performed by the graduates of this programme.

According to www.uplatnenie.sk, 88% of Master study graduates of 2019 are employed; the rest are working abroad or voluntarily unemployed (some of them are volunteering for their churches or on maternity leave).

The FoE MBU Department of Theology and Catechetics maintains a database of graduates to monitor their employment as well as informal activity. Many of them are keeping in touch, some are guiding our students during their professional practice, others are invited to deliver expert lectures on pedagogy in practice.

4. Structure and content of the study programme

The rules for designing the study programme's curricula

The rules for the design of study plans within this field of study are specified in Directive No. 1/2021 Creation, modification and approval of study programmes and submission of applications to the Slovak Accreditation Agency for Higher Education, (<https://www.umb.sk/univerzita/univerzita/vnutorny-system-kvality/zakladne-vnutorne-predpisy-vsk-umb/smernica-c-1-2021-vytvaranie-uprava-a-schvalovanie-studijnych-programov-14493.html>), and Directive FoE MBU No. 4/2021 Creation, modification and approval of study programmes and submission of applications for habilitation and inauguration proceedings to BIQS MBU, (<https://www.pdf.umb.sk/o-fakulte/system-kvality/smernice-a-pokyny-na-urovni-pf-umb.html>), and in the UMB Study Regulations (<https://www.umb.sk/studium/student/know-how-pre-studenta/studijne-predpisy.html>).

In the creation of study plans, the following rules are adhered to:

- Profile courses are taught by teaching staff holding the associate professor or professor (functional) positions.
- The number of credits assigned to individual courses reflect their position in the structure of the study programme and correspond with the student's load (compulsory course, elective course), i.e. profile and compulsory courses are assigned the highest number of credits.
- In-person teaching (lectures, seminars, exercises, field training) determines the number of lessons necessary to fully develop the competences; it is usually lower in elective courses and higher in compulsory and profile courses.
- The courses and defined learning outcomes are logically linked in terms of topics and competences across the levels of study (see the Concurrence of Study Programmes attached).
- The courses cover the entire graduate's profile; duplicity in terms of topics is monitored and prevented (see the SP structure and Learning outcomes attached)
- The learning outcomes correspond with the number of assigned credits.
- The evaluation procedures will focus on real verification of the student's skills (not only knowledge) whose levels of complexity and variety are monitored (see Learning outcomes).
- The level of cognitive and affective educational goals corresponds with the degree of study and follows the Dublin descriptors.
- If the course is taught in person and includes lectures, its syllabus covers 13 topics, one per each week of the semester. The syllabus of the course (regardless of the number of IL points) corresponds to the scope of its 13-week semester.

The institution compiles the recommended study plans for individual study paths

Students can develop more specific profile skills by enrolling in elective and compulsory courses offered by the department for their degree of study in the following courses: Evangelical Theology, Catechetics, Diaconia and Mission.

Rules for adherence to academic ethics and consequences of non-adherence

At MBU, there is an Ethical Committee, which addresses the questions and issues related to adherence to academic ethics (employees and students). Relevant information about the Ethical Committee and its tasks can be found at the university website (<https://www.umb.sk/univerzita/univerzita/o-univerzite/akademicka-etika-umb/eticka-komisia/>).

Students must adhere to the MBU Student Code of Ethics (<https://www.umb.sk/univerzita/univerzita/o-univerzite/akademicka-etika-umb/eticka-komisia/eticky-kodex-studenta-umb.html>). Every student can take online training in ethical decision-making in accordance with the MBU rules (<https://www.umb.sk/univerzita/univerzita/o-univerzite/akademicka-etika-umb/trening.html>).

Other relevant document defining the rules are the MBU Disciplinary Code (<https://www.umb.sk/studium/student/know-how-pre-studenta/studijne-predpisy.html>) and FoE MBU Student Disciplinary Code (<https://www.pdf.umb.sk/app/cmsFile.php?disposition=a&ID=5449>), which specifies the position and activity of the FoE MBU Disciplinary Committee. Students can access all relevant documents on the faculty website.

Procedures applicable to students with specific needs

Students with specific needs follow the MBU Study Guide for Students with Special Needs and the instructions published at the university website (<https://www.pdf.umb.sk/chcem-studovat/co-este-potrebujete-vediet/informacie-pre-uchadzacov-o-studium-a-studentov-so-specifickymi-potrebami/>).

Students with specific needs (SSN) can find information on the FoE MBU website (<https://www.umb.sk/studium/student/student-so-specifickymi-potrebami/informacie-pre-studentov-so-specifickymi-potrebami.html>).

FoE MBU has a SSN coordinator who supports students and helps them adapt to the university environment, and resolve any study-related issues (<https://www.pdf.umb.sk/chcem-studovat/co-este-potrebujete-vediet/informacie-pre-uchadzacov-o-studium-a-studentov-so-specifickymi-potrebami/>).

Procedures for filing complaints and appeals by students

Filing complaints and rules for committee examination are defined in the MBU Study Regulations (<https://www.umb.sk/studium/student/know-how-pre-studenta/studijne-predpisy.html>). Further possibilities for (non)anonymous appealing include the FoE MBU Electronic Inbox for Complaints and Proposals (administered by the Vice-Dean for Development and Quality Assurance) pursuant to Directive No. 3/2021 on the evaluation and development of the quality of education at FoE MBU (<https://www.pdf.umb.sk/o-fakulte/system-kvality/smernice-a-pokyny-na-urovni-pf-umb.html>).

Complaints related to violation of the student/employee Codes of Ethics can be submitted directly to the Ethical Committee in writing (<https://www.umb.sk/univerzita/univerzita/o-> univerzite/akademicka-etika-umb/eticka-komisia/). Any student may make a comment or complaint as stipulated by Directive No. 2/2017 on Handling Complaints at Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica (<https://www.umb.sk/univerzita/verejnost-a-media/peticie-a-staznosti/staznosti/>). Directive on the Internal System for Submitting and Processing Complaints about Anti-Social Activity and Act No. 54/2019 Coll. on Protection of Whistleblowers of Anti-Social Activity apply.

Other kinds of support and consulting for students
Since 2018, FoE MBU offers doctoral students faculty-wide support through the FoE MBU Doctoral School. It is a unique project in Slovakia and focuses on the students of humanities as well (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IEcjsOwBu1o). It aims to a) facilitate the development of transferable capabilities in doctoral students, mainly those related to research activity, b) support doctoral students in the key points of their study and provide them with opportunities to gain the necessary experience, c) support doctoral students in adapting to the academic environment across all fields of study, remove social isolation, and support them on their path to independence, d) support doctoral supervisors in networking and providing quality supervision (<https://www.pdf.umb.sk/katedry/centrum-edukacneho-vyskumu/doktorandska-skola-pf-umb/>).

A new MBU project supported by the Ministry of Education, Science and Research of Slovak Republic allowed for the establishment of the University Consulting and Support Centre in September 2021 (<https://www.umb.sk/studium/student/univerzitne-poradenske-a-podporne-centrum-umb.html>). It provides social, psychological, and legal consulting for students and applicants with specific needs or from socially disadvantaging environments. The centre provides professional consulting to students and applicants in a safe space and adheres to the highest ethical principles of consulting practice. Consulting is provided in cooperation with MBU staff, external experts, and students trained in the respective areas (under professional supervision). MBU students can easily access consulting and support services addressing a variety of their needs. The goal is to help them in their study, and promote emotional, social, intellectual, and professional development. The centre provides personal and remote consulting for students and special-pedagogical consulting for students and applicants with special needs. The MBU Career Centre (<https://poradenstvo.umb.sk/poradenstvo/karierove-poradenstvo>) provides career consulting (individual and group), workshops and training focused on career management; students can also try out the assessment centre to get acquainted with the procedures. The centre facilitates contact between students and potential employees by means of job fairs, expert lectures, workshops, and excursions. The MBU Career Centre regularly updates their social networks and websites to provide information on job vacancies, internships, and professional practice (<https://www.umb.sk/univerzita/karierne-centrum-umb/karierove-poradenstvo/>).

8. Spatial, material, and technical provision of the study programme and support

List and characteristics of the study programme classrooms and their technical equipment with a view to learning outcomes and courses (laboratories, design and art studios, other studios, workshops, interpreting booths, clinics, seminaries, science and technology parks, technology incubators, school enterprises, practice centres, training schools, classroom-training facilities, sports halls, swimming pools, sports grounds).

Departments have state-of-art didactic technology in their own classrooms (data projectors, TV). Shared lecture halls and seminar rooms also provide PCs connected to the Internet, data projectors, and interactive whiteboards. In 2021, 26 classrooms were equipped with videoconference systems for hybrid and remote teaching (camera and microphone). There are 6 public computers for students. 2 classrooms are also equipped with 20 PCs. Another 8 classrooms are equipped with multimedia and ICT. WiFi is accessible in most of the FoE premises so that student can connect to the Internet via their notebooks. The software equipment includes: OS MS Windows, Office 365, ESET and KASPERSKY antiviruses, ADOBE READER & PDF CREATOR, SPSS (statistical package). This material and technological equipment allows for achieving optimal quality of the educational process. At FoE MBU, there are 37 classrooms. 10 of them are specialised (gym). The two largest classrooms (capacity: 2x78 students) have been renovated and modernised. All classrooms are fully equipped with ICT (plasma TV, data projector, 60 PC available to all faculty departments). The classroom furniture is maintained, repaired, and replaced continually. To improve the quality of teaching, FoE has created several specialised classrooms/labs: a classroom for the Department of Social Work – 30 students; three classrooms for the Department of Elementary and Pre-School Pedagogy equipped for teaching Slovak language and literature, mathematics, and academic subjects focused on social sciences and science. Artistic courses are taught in specialised classrooms at the Department of Fine Arts: a large studio with painting easels, suitable for a variety of artistic procedures (both surface and spatial), working with different materials and technical tools, a specialized studio for graphic techniques with graphic presses and a photo chamber – a room for light-sensitive artistic techniques, a multimedia studio and a modelling room for plastic and spatial creation with a potter's wheel and a ceramic firing furnace. The Department of Musical Culture has 9 specialised classrooms (4 of which are multimedia classrooms, 1 offers music software), and a specialised instrumental classroom for music ensembles. Classroom equipment: 5 grand pianos, 5 upright pianos (outside the library and teachers' offices), 3 synthesizers, 1 drawbar organ. Other musical instruments: transverse flute, harpsichord, violin, cello, double bass, guitar, accordion, electric guitar and bass guitar. There is a special concert room and a so-called dance room (where music and movement activities and psychosocial trainings are carried out with the aim of psycho-motor development). Students and teachers can visit the AMOS Centre for Pedagogical Practice and Didactic Aids, in which they can find a variety of didactic aids and educational games for preschool and younger school-age children. The centre provides space for group work but the visitors can also relax here and play board and trivia games (<https://www.umb.sk/aktuality/centrum-pre-pedagogicku-prax-a-didakticke-pomocky-amos.html>) To improve the study and work environment, FoE has provided the following: wheelchair access to all faculty premises including parking, camera system, student parking in front of the faculty, renovation of C and AB buildings including entrance halls. In the FoE MBU premises, there is a copy centre providing printing, binding, laminating and sells stationery. The Pedagogical Study located on the 1st floor of the Student House NO. 5 can accommodate 55 students. Presence study is possible. Students perform their continuous teaching practice in the local training kindergartens and primary schools (Banská Bystrica and Zvolen). Currently, there are 38 partner agreements with such workplaces (see Institution partners in providing educational activities for the study programme and the characteristics of their participation). Further agreements have been concluded with tens of schools across the region, which serve as training schools for teaching practice (Agreements are archived at the MBU Department of General Accounting, zdenka.slobodnikova@umb.sk, 048/446 1173).

The Department of Theology and Catechetics has four classrooms; three are equipped with ICT, projector, and hybrid sets. During the pandemic, this equipment enabled the department to provide hybrid teaching to both internal and external students without significant disruption to the pedagogical process. Among other things, the department also has its own library, which currently contains more than 17,600 scientific books as well as other spaces for scientific and pedagogical activities, seminars and smaller conferences. Link to the department library: Koha online catalogue \(kniznice.eu\).

Information management of the study programme (access to study literature listed in course descriptions, access to information databases and other information sources, information technologies, etc.).

All information about the study programme, including course information letters is available in the Academic Information System (AiS2) and on the faculty's website. Course syllabi, eligibility criteria for receiving credits and qualitative assessment are published on the websites of individual lecturers or in the LMS MOODLE system pertaining to the relevant course. The course of study from the admission examinations to state examinations are controlled through AIS2. The LMS MOODLE system is used to support face-to-face and distance learning, AIS2 and e-mail are used for communication and feedback. Each student has a university e-mail address, which allows them to access the University library and its libraries. All student homes provide Internet in student rooms, most classrooms have wi-fi (coverage is continually improved). Students have Internet access at FoE MBU halls as well. The Department publishes up-to-date announcements for students on its website. The website has a Study section, which provides study-related information (teaching practice, information for the finishing students, instructions for submitting final theses, etc. Information about the courses and downloadable materials can be found in a separate section. Students can use all software programs for which the university has purchased licenses. Besides MS Office 365, other specialised graphic and music programs as well as research software are available: SPSS 19.0 – statistical data processing; UNISTAT, ATLAS-TI – qualitative research data processing, etc. All school computers can be used to access publication databases via university licences. Students of education sciences use mainly the WOS, SCOPUS, EBSCO, and SCIENCE DIRECT databases.

Teachers responsible for the study programme actively create study material for the individual courses. They are (co)authors of university textbooks and materials on education sciences. Students can also purchase books published by FoE MBU staff in the Pedagóg civic association shop. There is sufficient material, technical, and informational equipment to implement the proposed study programme; moreover, it is continuously innovated and updated. Students and teachers can visit the library of the Department of Theology and Catechetics and borrow books that are unavailable in other studies or the central university library in accordance with the internal rules of this workplace. The items in the library are regularly updated based on the proposals of the teachers responsible for the study programme. Currently, the library contains more than 17,500 scientific and specialised books, journals, and proceedings from Slovakia and other countries. The library provides Internet access. Students and employees can use their own devices; individual tables and electrical sockets are available. The department library also offers a large lecture hall on the 2nd floor, large screen, and Internet access.

Many information sources are provided via the Internet. The software is regularly updated. Students also have access to an open library located in the hallway. They can freely borrow and return the books there. This project is based on the principles of trust and solidarity.

Library and information services are also provided by the University Library of Matej Bel University at the central workplaces at Tajovského 40 and 51 and at dislocated workplaces at each faculty. It offers absence and presence library services, consulting, research, reference, copy services, and Internet access 54 hours a week. Online services and electronic information sources can be accessed 24/7. The library collection contains over 277,000 scholarly and specialized monographs, textbooks, edited volumes, encyclopaedias, dictionaries and other types of documents. Acquisition is managed in cooperation with teachers according to the current academic and scholarly duties of the university. The collection also includes 251 periodicals, 120 of which are foreign. Final theses and other qualification theses defended at the university have been available in electronic form since 2009. Over 700 textbooks and study materials published by the university press are available via the MBU Virtual Reading Room. Further databases can be accessed via the library website: ACM, ProQuest Central, ProQuest Ebook Central, SpringerLink, Springer

Nature, Wiley Online Library. Cambridge Journals and Emerald full text databases, and educational videos on the platform HSTalks are also accessible.

The Circulation Branch at Tajovského 40 is the library's central branch for circulation services, allowing users to borrow from a collection of over 87,000 printed documents. Its opening hours are Monday to Friday, 9:00 am to 4:00 pm. The branch also offers interlibrary loan services. The General Reading Room at Tajovského 51 features a reference collection of over 16,500 printed documents and 134 periodicals from every field of study. Its opening hours are Monday to Wednesday from 8:39 am to 9:00 pm, Thursday and Friday from 8:30 am to 4:00 pm. The reading room also includes the university's European Documentation Centre, as well as an archive of final thesis and other qualification thesis in printed form.

The General Reading Room at Tajovského 15 features a reference collection of over 6,500 printed documents, 39 periodicals, and 125 didactic games and aids. Office hours: Monday – Wednesday (9.00 am – 9.00 pm), Thursday – Friday (9.00 am – 4.00 pm). The AMOS Centre for Pedagogical Practice and Didactic Aids resides in the Pedagogical Study Room.

Characteristics and extent of distance education applied in the study programme's courses. Access to and manuals of e-learning portals. Procedures for the transition from contact teaching to distance learning.

Each course information letter specifies the form of study. If the CIS specifies the form as combined or distance, the teacher is obliged to create an interactive e-learning course in LMS Moodle. The use of the portal is regulated by Directive No. 3/2016 on e-learning at MBU, which is available in the interface after opening (<https://lms.umb.sk/>). At the beginning of their study, 1st year students receive detailed instruction on e-learning support, mainly during the introductory courses. They can also address their teachers/study advisors during consulting hours if necessary. At the beginning of the semester, each teacher updates the course and sends sign-in information to the students (passwords). Besides syllabi and requirements for completion, there are also links to MS Teams (distance teaching), ZOOM, lecture videos, tasks, fora & discussion, polls, study materials, etc. Students can even be assessed through Moodle courses. In case of need (e.g. current pandemic situation), presence teaching fluently transforms into distance teaching in all courses and levels of study. Quality of distance teaching is continuously monitored and improved based on students' input collected by surveys. In response to the pandemic situation, the hybrid form of study has been successfully introduced in situations when only a part of the group could attend the classes in person.

Characteristics of the possibilities for social, sports, cultural, spiritual and social activities.

MBU offers a rich variety of social and cultural events, sports, and spiritual activities. In terms of sport activities, students can join several sport clubs (athletics club, women's basketball team, gymnastics club, university hockey team, mountaineering club, karate club, judo club). The Sports for All club offers a swimming pool, sports games: floorball, football, volleyball, fitness, Power Zumba, Country dance, jumping, classic and sports massage. More information can be found at <http://www.sportklub.umb.sk/>.

There are three artistic ensembles based at MBU (<https://www.pdf.umb.sk/v-com-sme-vynimocni/umelecke-subory/>): the Mladost' University Choir, the Mladost' University Folk Ensemble and the Mladost' Chamber Orchestra. They work primarily with FoE MBU students but are open to all MBU students. They are operated by the FoE MBU Department of Music Culture. Students can also participate in the activities of UNIS, the student theatre ensemble, which is open for all students who are interested in doing theatre. The University Dance Center offers various dance classes.

For over 20 years, MBU has actively cooperated with the Volunteer Center, a Banská Bystrica based non-profit organisation, which motivates students to participate in the Center's own volunteer programmes, as well as those of other organizations, and supports their involvement in the community. MBU students can also participate in the Duke of Edinburgh's International Award. UMB is the only university in Slovakia to be a local centre for this award. DoFE is a comprehensive development programme that gives young people aged 14 to 24 a chance to develop their abilities and character for real life and fulfil their potential, helping them to succeed in life. MBU students can not only participate in DofE, but also learn the methodology and became programme leaders (<https://dofe.umb.sk/>).

As for free time, FoE MBU provides several premises where students can spend their free time, e.g. cafeteria and students' room (catering), relaxation and study room No. B003 (including a kitchenette where students can heat up their own food). The Kolečko café employing disabled people to sensitise the customers towards other people's needs. The Chillpoint relaxation zone has been created by the students themselves (building A, second floor), but there are also a canteen and another cafeteria nearby the FoE MBU Dean's Office. The PuFkáčik children's corner is available for the public, employees' and students' children.

In addition to the activities offered directly by the faculty and the university, rich opportunities for spending free time are also provided by the City of Banská Bystrica, with which MBU actively cooperates, keeping students regularly informed about such opportunities via social networks and bulletin boards in the faculty premises.

Students can fulfil their spiritual needs in the following student-focused organisations operating in the city: (University Bible Movement/), YMCA (<https://ymca.sk/>), Evangelical Free Church of America (<https://www.efca.org/>)

Church congregations (Roman Catholic, Evangelical A.C., Baptist Union, Apostolic Church, Church of the Brethren), Slovak Bible Society (<https://www.biblickaspolocnost.sk/en/home/>), The MBU University Consulting and Support Centre (UPPC) also provides pastoral care (<https://poradenstvo.umb.sk/>).

Possibilities and conditions for participation of the study programme students in mobilities and internships (indicating contact details), application instructions, rules for recognition of this education.

Possibilities and conditions for student participation in mobilities and internships are guided by Directive No. 4/2019 on Erasmus+ mobility at UMB. They are regularly published in a separate section of the FoE MBU website (<https://www.pdf.umb.sk/studenti/studujem/erasmus-a-studium-v-zahranici/>). Besides Erasmus+ mobilities, other schemes such as SAIA are also supported. The Office of International Cooperation and Mobility also arranges internship opportunities. Every September, FoE MBU organises the Mobility Days during which students are informed about mobilities and internships. Students also receive this kind of information via the faculty newsletter well in advance of the application deadline. The call for applications for mobility is announced every year in the first half of the winter semester. Those interested in mobility submit an application along with a letter of motivation. In the application, they can indicate a selection of up to three host institutions they are interested in. Subsequently, a pre-selection of participants takes place, which consists of an evaluation of the submitted documents and a personal interview. It is essential that students choose a host institution where they can study their field and specialisation. In cooperation with the departmental coordinators and the Office of International Cooperation and Mobility, students prepare a preliminary study plan in advance. The results of the pre-selection are the basis for drawing up the grant application, which is submitted to the National Erasmus+ Agency each year. The results of the pre-selections are announced to the students after the grant has been awarded by the National Agency. This is followed by the stage of practical administrative preparation for mobility stays, which consists of communication with partner institutions and nomination of students. The student sends the Learning Agreement and other documents to the partner institution according to their request (academic transcript, proof of accommodation, language certificate). The Office of International Cooperation and Mobility prepares the financial contract and aids the student in the process of securing insurance and accommodation, as well as the journey itself. After returning from mobility, the marks obtained for the courses completed at the host institution are entered into AIS (the Academic Information System). Courses other than the recognized compulsory courses are recognized according to the student's preference (as an elective or optional course).

Recognition of credits in the ECTS system is made possible thanks to the precise monitoring of mobility activities before, during and after mobility. Prior to mobility, maximum attention is paid to motivating students and facilitating communication between students and host institutions so that a realistic personalized learning agreement can be developed for each student, taking into account the requirements that students have to meet at their home institution and the opportunities offered by the host institution. The learning agreement remains a key and binding document in the next phases of mobility implementation as well. During a mobility stay, the Office for International Cooperation and Mobility, in close cooperation with the departmental coordinators, provides ongoing support to students studying abroad. Any possible discrepancy between the obligations defined in the learning agreement and the reality at the host institution is resolved in such a way that the student can obtain the necessary ECTS credits for the mobility period. The student has the opportunity to promptly draw attention to discrepancies in the offer of subjects so that a suitable solution to the situation can be proposed in cooperation with all involved parties. After the student's return, the staff of the Office of International Cooperation and Mobility, in cooperation with the faculty study departments and departmental coordinators, confirms the recognition of ECTS credits obtained abroad. FoE MBU also supports recognition of blended virtual mobility in accordance with the valid Slovak and European legislation.

In relation to the Evangelical Theology and Mission study programme, mobilities at the following higher educational institutions are offered (Erasmus+):

Evangelical Theology (Master degree) – the applicant can be accepted if they successfully completed Bachelor degree study in a theologically oriented study programme. During the commission admission examination, the study results achieved in the previous study is assessed and scored. The knowledge of evangelical theology and mission is evaluated. From the results of the admissions procedure, a ranking is drawn up based on which the applicants who demonstrate the highest level of ability are admitted to study. Based on the number of applicants, the Dean of the faculty can waive the admission examinations.

10. Feedback on the quality of education

Procedures for monitoring and evaluating students' opinions of the study programme's quality

Procedures for monitoring and evaluating students' opinions of the study programme's quality follow Directive No. 3/2021 on the rules for education quality assessment at FoE MBU (<https://www.pdf.umb.sk/o-fakulte/system-kvality/smernice-a-pokyny-na-urovni-pf-umb.html>).

The following procedures and tools are used for evaluation and development of the quality of education at FoE MBU with different, but periodical frequency:

- a survey of students' satisfaction with the quality of teacher and instruction within a specific course
- a survey of students' satisfaction with the quality of professional practice in the specialised training facility at FoE MBU
- a satisfaction survey for students with special needs
- an evaluation of students' satisfaction with the quality of instruction during their mobility abroad
- a satisfaction survey for foreign students on mobility at FoE MBU
- identifying needs and ideas on improving the quality (performed by study advisors)
- electronic inbox for complaints and proposals
- evaluation of the pedagogical process and teacher by means of pedagogical observation
- a survey of students' satisfaction with the spatial, material, and technical equipment available for their study programme
- evaluation of the professional practice by the specialised training facilities at FoE MBU
- students' evaluation of study programmes
- graduates' and employers' evaluation of study programmes
- tracking the study programme graduate's employability in practice,
- other surveys other surveys and evaluations according to current needs: department satisfaction surveys related to remote teaching in 2019/2020 and 2020/2021 were performed as well.

All the aforementioned procedures are analysed on multiple levels (main guarantor, head of the department, Vice-Dean) in accordance with the respective Directive. All quality evaluation surveys are processed into reports. Each report summarises the results and proposes respective measures aimed at improving the quality of education. All reports are archived.

Feedback on the quality of provided education and relevant measures

The evaluation of the quality of study is published in the respective section of the faculty website <https://www.pdf.umb.sk/o-fakulte/system-kvality/hodnotenie-kvality-vzdelavania.html>

Twice a year, the department performs a more detailed satisfaction survey and compares the results to the data collected from students via AIS. The head of the department presents the results at the department meetings. The results of student's satisfaction are incorporated in the Reports on Pedagogical Activity.
